QUESTION WITHOUT NOTICE
(Of which some notice has been given)

Tuesday, 18 June 2013

Hon Robin Chapple to the Minister for Aboriginal Affairs.

With regard to the registering and recording of Aboriginal sites, I ask:

1. How many lodged or reported sites are currently awaiting assessment by the Aboriginal Cultural Materials Committee (ACMC)?
2. What is the average turn-around or waiting time for an assessment to be done by the ACMC once a site or area of interest has been lodged or reported?

I thank the Hon. Member for some notice of this question.

1. There are currently 6,234 lodged sites awaiting assessment by the Aboriginal Cultural Material Committee.
2. The Aboriginal Heritage Act 1972 does not prescribe an average turn-around or waiting time for an assessment to be completed by the Committee. The Department of Aboriginal Affairs has been proactive in setting a 70 day timeframe for assessments as part of a section 18 application under the Aboriginal Cultural Material Committee.
