Answer

- (a) The Senior Officials Steering Group (SOSG) membership consists of officials from the Departments of the Premier and Cabinet; Water and Environmental Regulation; Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety; Health; Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions; Jobs, Tourism, Science and Innovation; Planning, Lands and Heritage; and Treasury.
- (b) Yes
  - (i) Six times
  - (ii) Not Applicable
- (c) No
- (d) August 2019
- (e) Consultation stages are set out in the whole-of-government Implementation which was released on 9 July 2019.

(f) Member departments have undertaken any discussions with stakeholders to date on behalf of the committee. This has included industry and non-industry stakeholders.

(i) See answer (e).

(g) See answer (f).

(i) See answer (i).

(h) A range of consultation methods are anticipated to be used throughout the stakeholder consultation process where required, including:

- conducting workshops and briefings with impacted stakeholders;
- releasing draft proposals for public comment and feedback;
- publishing response to feedback on the dedicated Implementation Plan website; and
- informing stakeholders through the Implementation Plan website once actions have been completed.

Where appropriate, exposure drafts in the form of discussion papers, draft guidance material, codes of practice and other relevant proposals will be released on the Implementation Plan website for public comment.

(i) – (k) The Implementation Plan sets out the timeframe for implementing the right of consent for traditional owners as December 2020. I am advised that the SOSG is on track with delivering this outcomes in this timeframe.

(l) The Minister for Mines and Petroleum is responsible for the amendments, which will grant a right for consent or refusal.
